Codes of Conduct

The Codes of Conduct identify a standard of behaviour that is expected for all the individuals involved in sport.

Breaches of the codes of conduct will be dealt with through the complaints and disciplinary process with the emphasis on resolution through the informal route.

The relevant code of conduct should be read and signed annually by young people, parents, committee members, leaders, coaches, and teachers. The declaration that these have been read and accepted on the Strule Dolphins ASC registration form must be signed.

Squads/ Teams

Squads are defined by the coaching team depending on the age and ability of the swimmer.

Drop Off and Collection

Athletes are required to attend for training on time and to follow the guidelines set down by the Strule Dolphins ASC for that session. Children under 18 will remain the responsibility of their parent/guardian until the start of the pool session. Parents/guardians should not drop off children without ensuring there is a parent on duty and coach on duty to conduct the session.

Parents/guardians should arrive promptly at the end of session to collect children as the Strule Dolphins ASC cannot be responsible for athletes once the session has finished and have left poolside. Coaches and the parent on poolside duty are not responsible for swimmers in the changing area.

Duty Rota for Sessions

- The rota is organised in advance and communicated to all involved.
- A session cannot take place if the person on duty does not attend.
- Contact details for all individuals on the rota will be available to coaching/teaching staff involved in the session (these details are kept confidential and available for those that need them)
- The person on duty must be over eighteen, and may be an older member of the Strule Dolphins ASC, i.e. it does not need to be a parent. However, an athlete may not be the person on duty for their own session or squad
- The coach/teacher must be able to rely on the person on duty being present, some sessions take place at more vulnerable times e.g. early morning
- The person on duty should have a full view and hearing of the pool area/dry land area; this cannot be achieved by sitting up in a stand or behind protective screens or glass.
- The person on duty should not interfere with the safe coaching or teaching of the session. However, if a young person is in imminent danger the issue must be dealt with immediately
- Concerns should be brought to the coach or teacher in charge of the session or the Children's Officer following a session

Duties of the person on duty

The person scheduled to be on duty must:

- Find an alternative parent in the event they are not able to attend; it is the responsibility of the person scheduled to be on duty to do this
- Turn up at least 10 minutes before the session starts.
- Be in full view of the pool
- Ensure an attendance record for the session is kept and placed in the provided folder.
- Be aware of children leaving and returning to pool, e.g. a child should return to the pool after visiting the toilet

- Allow the coach/teacher freedom to get on with the session – sometimes coaches or teachers need to provide feedback to individuals on one-to-one basis, this should be in open view
- Take note of any problems that occur in the diary provided, refer any issues directly to the coach or teacher in charge of the session or, if not possible, to the Children's Officer or Strule Dolphins ASC secretary
- In cases of emergency, help the coach/teacher by being an extra adult to supervise children or to assist with a response to the emergency

No person on duty

It is a breach of Swim Ireland rules to not have a person on duty for Swim Ireland sessions, either pool or dry land activities. If a person on duty does not turn up the coach/teacher will take the best courses of action to ensure the safety of the young people and themselves, this may mean cancelling the session unless a replacement is found. The person on duty who did not turn up may be subject to disciplinary action.
